The Only Chapter I Plan To Write, So If There's More, Everyone Will Have A Good Chuckle Over This One

Author's Notes:
Felt it was time I added Aerosmith to my repartoire, so here it is.

A friend inside a needle. The best money could buy. A feeling of warmth; a hug from the inside out. A prick into the vein... simple as that. A few shots a day keeps the sickness away.

Joe knew what he was talking about. The others just didn't get it.

Poor them.

It was the perfect high, not easy to buy... but worth it when you could.

And they were rich!

He could buy a thousand friends in a thousand needles, if he wanted.

Steven leaned back against the couch and sighed contentedly. He could sleep now... rehearsal could wait.
